

Brenda Cunningham is a Managing Director at Trayport Limited, a wholly owned subsidiary of TMX Group, best known for its exchange subsidiaries, Toronto Stock Exchange, and TSX Venture Exchange. Brenda is responsible for the business, sales, and strategy to support trading in Energy and Commodity markets in North America. She is also a founding member of The Voluntary Climate Marketplace, an initiative Trayport has recently launched in partnership with Chicago based firm, IncubEX, to meet the growing needs of market participants and expand voluntary carbon markets globally. Prior to her current role with Trayport, she has held multiple positions during her 12+ years with TMX which includes helping build TSX Private Markets, a business established to assist private companies with financing, and trading. She is also currently on the Advisory Board for the Data Collaboration Alliance.

Brenda has close to 30 years of financial markets experience, spanning from Market Data and Trading to Capital Formation, Crypto/Digital investments, and Energy/Commodities. Her career began in 1995 and included experiences with Dow Jones Telerate, Bridge Information Systems, Thomson Reuters, and Alpha Trading.

Brenda was recently diagnosed with ILC after her mastectomy revealed a 10 cm tumour, which had spread to her lymph nodes, despite being closely monitored with regular clear mammograms. She is passionate about finding ways to raise awareness and change current protocols in the hopes it may lead to earlier detection. She reached out to LBCA in the summer of 2023 and soon after became a member of the LBCA Patient Advocacy Advisory Board.

Brenda lives in Oakville, Ontario, a suburb of Toronto and is happiest while spending time with her two teenage children.
